Letter from Our Board Chair

Dear Supporters and Friends:

In the last year, supporters like you have kept VPAP's light shining on Virginia politics and government – especially as we endeavored to illuminate understanding in classrooms across the Commonwealth.

Civics Navigator, VPAP's new initiative for educators of all types, has empowered teachers and students by integrating VPAP's data and resources into the classroom. Innovative tools and activities introduce new ways to teach about civics and equip students as they grow into active and informed citizens.

Civics Navigator is funded in part by the Olson Poole Civics Education Fund, named for the late Bill Olson, a dedicated supporter of VPAP, and David M. Poole, VPAP's founder and former executive director. The bipartisan Board of Directors has issued a challenge to the VPAP community to match Mr. Olson's $170,000 endowment. Your contribution secures long-term access to transformational tools for civics educators across Virginia.

You may have already gotten a chance to read through VPAP's new strategic plan, which will be our roadmap for the next three years. Through 2027, our talented team will aim to make VPAP and its free, public resources even more vital, efficient and resilient. You'll see more about the plan in this report, and you can visit vpap.org to read it yourself.

I'm proud of our strides in 2024 toward a more informed Virginia. I am grateful for your role in elevating public understanding. Your support provides access to trusted, high-quality information that can't be found anywhere else. Thank you for being part of the VPAP community

Regards,

Ross Grogg, Board Chair

Expanding Access to Virginia Politics

Strengthening Our Community of Supporters

Charting the Course Ahead: VPAP's Strategic Plan

We are committed to being fiercely nonpartisan and to fostering transparency in Virginia politics and government, enabling citizens to have the information necessary to make decisions that align with their values.

VPAP is dedicated to remaining a trusted resource for political leaders, lobbyists, and individuals who rely on our data to inform their daily decisions.

Our mission extends beyond the corridors of government to captivate and engage Virginia's diverse citizenry — whether they're passionate political enthusiasts following every development, casual observers seeking occasional updates, or voters primarily tuned in during election cycles. We are thrilled to share VPAP's 2025-2027 Strategic Plan—a roadmap for our future.

This plan introduces a new vision statement that reflects our unwavering commitment to enhancing public understanding of Virginia politics and government while remaining a trusted source for people of all political beliefs.

The Roadmap for the Future: Four Key Goals

GOAL 1

Maintain and enhance our services to ensure they continue to create value for our user base.

GOAL 2

Understand and grow our audience to maintain a competitive advantage.

GOAL 3

Grow and diversify funding sources to ensure financial stability.

GOAL 4

Strengthen internal operations to enhance the organization's efficiency and the team's sustainability.

Program Spotlight: Civics Navigator

Launched in September 2024, VPAP's Civics Navigator program is already making waves! Designed for educators across all sectors—public, private, homeschool, and higher education—as well as parents and caregivers, this new program is sparking civic interest in students, strengthening data literacy skills, and enhancing instruction with VPAP's trusted, nonpartisan resources. As Civics Navigator grows, VPAP is excited to continue equipping educators with the tools they need to inspire Virginia's next generation of informed and engaged citizens.

2024 Impact

Attended 7 professional events/conferences

Did you know that in 2007 the Virginia General Assembly designated this week -- the third week in September -- as Civics Education Week in Virginia?

Celebrating Civics Education Week and Constitution Day today, we put together a visual comparing the Virginia and United States Constitutions.

How do the VA and US Constitutions compare?

Explore the similarities and differences with your students through VPAP's visual, "Comparing Constitutions."

CONSTITUTION COMPARISON

Both Constitutions establish governing principles and separation of powers.

What's Next for 2025?

We're building on this momentum with exciting initiatives on the horizon:

- Emerging Partnerships: Collaborating with organizations across the Commonwealth and beyond to extend our reach and impact.
- New Opportunities: Launching Civics Navigator internships to provide hands-on learning experiences.
- Enhanced Resources: Introducing curated General Assembly bill tracking, video content of GA floor debates, and a dynamic schedule of online and in-person professional development opportunities.

Support Civics Education in Virginia

These innovative resources address an urgent need and are funded in part in part by the Olson Poole Civics Education Fund. Established in 2023, the fund honors the late William Olson, a dedicated supporter of VPAP, and David Poole, VPAP's founder and former Executive Director.

Your support helps advance the fund's mission of engaging Virginia's youth and educators.
